

Locking cooker valve

Our free safety device can keep people with dementia or autism gas safe in their own homes.

Your gas. Our network.

Working together to help you care at home

When you care for someone with Alzheimer's or autism, we understand you need extra safeguarding in place. The locking cooker valve can help them stay safe in their own home.

We will fit a lockable safety device to the existing gas cooker pipework. This service is free of charge.

Upon referral, our engineer will arrange a home visit to fit the device. A carer or relative will need to be present at the visit to agree the valve's position.

The carer can easily turn the valve on and off, enabling the resident to continue to use their gas cooker safely.

We need your help

The locking cooker valve is a simple solution, which helps people retain their independence while keeping them safe at home.

When the valve is locked, the cooker can't be unintentionally turned on or left on when the carer or relative is out of the room.

With your help, we can provide a locking cooker valve for adults or children nationwide at no cost.

If you are a carer or health service provider and know someone who could benefit from this free service, please contact us.

We manage the network that distributes natural and green gas to up to six million homes and businesses across the south of England and Scotland. Whoever your supplier is, our pipes deliver gas safely, reliably and efficiently to every one of our customers. It's your gas, in our network.
